

Class Axe Guitars Calabogie Country Music Festival
Announces After Hours Party at Festival

OTTAWA, Ont. (June 12, 2013) - The Working Class is to perform a special private after hours show at the first annual Class Axe Guitars Calabogie Country Music Festival. The show will be on Saturday June 29th of the festival.

Yves Trottier, Artistic Director of the festival, says "The Working Class is going to put on a special private show for our VIPs and campers. It's our way to say thanks for supporting our first Country Music Festival and keep the party going into the wee hours of the morning."

Headlining the June 28, 19 & 30 festival is Dallas Smith. Dallas is a Juno nominated Canadian country music artist. Also playing the first annual festival is Kira Isabella, Leah Daniels, Jordan McIntosh, Ryan Cook, The Working Class, Whitney Rose, Autumn Hill, Tim Chaisson, Silver Creek, Kerosene Creek and Ambush.

In addition to an amazing music lineup there will be vendors, ribs, other food options, chair lift rides, beer garden, and of course everyone's favorite feature - mountainside camping available all weekend long. Those who attend the sister festival, Calabogie Blues & Ribfest will know the feeling of community that comes with Calabogie Music Festivals. It's a family friendly environment, with something for everyone!

Updates can always be found online at CalabogieCountry.com or on the Calabogie Country Facebook page.
